

 ProMusica Concert Series
GREAT MUSIC & COMMUNITY OUTREACH

November 29, 2011

Greetings to Everyone from ProMusica Concert Series,

Since this year is quickly passing by, a quick catch-up and some detailed information about our forthcoming season seems appropriate. Visit our new state-of-the-art website, for artist information, concert details, ticket purchases, and more: <http://www.promusicaconcertseries.com>

Our first wonderful soloist for the season will be Mac Frampton. Reviews describe Mac's performances as "Horowitz mixed with Liberace and an ounce of Victor Borge" and "One of America's Most Exciting Pianist!" We are utilizing Mac's many talents as a concert pianist, classical organist and jazz pianist for a 4:00 p.m. concert at First Presbyterian Church of Gainesville on Sunday, January 22nd.

The second concert for the season is a free 'Outreach Concert' for school audiences. It will be presented at North Georgia Christian School / Westminster Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, February 15th at 10:00 a.m. Sean VanMeter, a local outstanding young pianist will be featured. ProMusica's Executive Director, Jack Bell, will interview Sean and discuss the responsibilities and challenges associated with being a young professional artist and a 12 year old pre-teen. Guided by Mr. Bell, Sean will focus his performance around the concept of "Learning: To Be Creative". Children of our subscribers are also invited to attend this concert.

The finale to our season will be a 4:00 p.m. concert on Sunday, March 4th, at Grace Episcopal Church in Gainesville. Our featured artists will be the Coro Vocati-- one of the premier chamber choirs of the South. They provide a professional quality choral experience for gifted musicians who also understand their call to serve as music educators, church musicians, vocal teachers, singers and conductors.
